As a gift expert and editor of TheGiftInsider.com, I am all about helping you find the most perfect and heartfelt presents for your special someone. If you really want to make them swoon this Valentine's Day, I recommend either going personal and giving something customized just for them or giving them a kit, craft or activity the two of you can enjoy together. Either way shows you put thought into finding a gift that's meant just for them.

TheGiftInsider.com is a free gift recommendation service that helps shoppers find hand-selected and creative gift ideas, then links shopper to the merchant that sells these cool products. The site lets visitors browse for gifts by price, person, occasion or personality and offers exclusive discount codes for many products featured on the site.

Gift Expert, Lindsay Roberts, founder of TheGiftInsider.com, scours local boutiques, magazines and the web to find the best, newest, coolest, most unique, most romantic, most creative gift ideas out there - so that users don't have to.
